U.S. Veterans Ask Law On Group Libel

The Jewish War Veterans of the United States directed its executive committee to draft a bill for submission to Congress that would make it a crime to slander or libel any racial or religious group.

The action was taken at the fifty-first annual encampment of the organization, attended by 1,000 delegates representing 80,000 members in forty states, at Atlantic City.

The committee was specifically instructed in the resolution to include a provision in the proposed measure that would make it a crime to send through the mails any propaganda or literature libeling or slandering any racial or religious group, and making it a crime to libel or slander in general any group for reasons of race, religion or national origin.

Divide Quota As Interim Move

United Office spokesman said in London that the Palestine Government had decided as an interim measure to divide the 1,500 monthly Palestine immigration quota equally between Jewish refugees held in Cyprus detention camps and those in the British zone of Germany.

The new policy, permitting 750 to enter from each area monthly, will remain in effect until new arrangements are decided on after the resumption of the London conference on Palestine, expected during the third week in January, the spokesman said. Some few refugees who already have relatives in Palestine are being taken from areas other than the British zone.

British League Calls U.S. Refugee Camps Bad

Charges of ill-treatment, overcrowding and bad sanitary conditions in displaced persons camps in the United States zones of Austria and Germany were contained in reports released in London, England, by the British League for European Freedom.

Detailed accounts of harsh treatment of refugees during transfers from one camp to another included allegations that one woman had been severely beaten and a child had died from pneumonia resulting from cold and exposure.

According to first-hand reports collected and vouched for by the British League for European Freedom, these cases occurred Oct. 21 and 22 when camp 69 in Lins in the United States zone of Austria was being transferred to Asten.

Arab And Jew State Plans For Peace

Dr. Nahum Goldmann, member of the executive committee of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, and Dr. Khalil Toubah, director of the Institute for Arab-American Affairs, speaking in New York at a luncheon of the Foreign Policy Association in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, agreed that Palestine was rapidly becoming one of the most explosive countries in the Middle East. They differed, however, as to the plan that would restore real peace there.

Dr. Goldmann declared that the Palestine problem needed an immediate settlement.

J. D. C. Finds Index Of Jews Taken By Nazis

A huge card index of arrested German Jews compiled by the Nazi Government has been discovered in Berlin by the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee. This discovery is one of the most important recent developments in the tracing of a large number of Berlin Jews still listed as missing, since it offers complete information about arrests and deportations to the east.

After the J.D.C. in Berlin learned of the existence of the index, which was among records being kept in the German Finance Office, the American and British Public Safety Divisions of the Military Government ordered the Finance Office to make the list available to the J.D.C. for copying. The J.D.C. now has 11 persons working six days a week making an exact duplicate of the index.

The cards, which contain 78,000 names with cross references, give the exact date and place of arrest, not only of Berlin Jews, but of all Jews apprehended in Berlin. They contain complete names, dates, and places of birth, last known residences, names of families, and the case numbers in the German police files, which carry even more complete details. Using the case numbers, it is possible to ascertain to which concentration camps the deportees were sent.

U.J.A. Help Vital As Government Aid Drops

The Jews of Europe cannot look for help in the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, now in liquidation, nor to its successor, the International Refugee Organization, high government officials of the United States and other countries informed the United Jewish Appeal.

Maj. Gen. John H. Hillier, assistant Secretary of State, told 1,600 delegates to the organization's national conference in Atlantic City that neither the United States Army, the International Refugee Organization, nor UNRRA could provide any adequate measure for the displaced Jews in Europe.

Palestine Terrorism Assailed At World Zionist Congress

Dr. Chaim Weizmann was re-elected president of the twenty-second World Zionist Congress at Basel, Switzerland. Sixteen associate chairmen, including a woman, were also chosen. Dr. Weizmann received an overwhelming vote, 191 to 48.

It was at first believed that Dr. Stephen S. Wise of New York, one of the few surviving delegates of the first Congress, in 1897, would be elected president, but it was learned that members of Dr. Abba Hillel Silver's group, the Zionist Organization of America, had made it clear that they would oppose Dr. Wise's candidacy for factional reasons.

The Zionist Revisionist Group voted against Dr. Weizmann. This faction said supporting him meant endorsing his policy of "appeasement" Britain. This, in their view, was among the causes of the Jews' catastrophes in Europe, writes Julian Louis Meltzer, in the New York Times.

The DOW AWARD

Presented for Outstanding Heroism

DOW BREWERY - MONTREAL

Christmas is more than a special date on the calendar. It is a time of year when the good that is in the hearts of men overflows into the lives of others. It is a time when we rediscover the meaning of the word friendship.

... a time when we realize that the greatest happiness in the world lies in helping others.

This Christmas will be a happier one in many homes because, during the past year, the lives of dear ones have been saved by the unselfish actions of brave Canadians. In recognizing such acts of heroism through the presentation of The Dow Award, we would like to feel that we are helping to promote the qualities of unselfishness and good citizenship which, after all, are the essence of the true Christmas spirit.

A quart of milk has almost as much protein as half a pound of beef! It also contains valuable vitamins and minerals. So it's a smart idea to serve milk dishes on meatless days . . . and every day to see that your family gets its "health quota" — at least a quart of milk a day for growing children; a pint for adults.

THE HUNTER—a Conservationist

The hunter, by lawful shooting helps control the number of deer which any given area can support, and by the destruction of predatory wolves, becomes a conservationist of the first order.

FOUNDED BY CARLING'S, 1908

"WHITE-TAILED DEER" by W. B. Herbert.

Poised and alert, among the lengthening shadows of a snow crusted bush trail stand a Buck and a Doe. Yet, at the crack of a twig, the white tails vanish into the fastness. Truly a superb example of Canadian wild life whose continued existence in our forests can be ensured through the whole hearted support of conservation measures.

MODERATION

...One of Canada's Finest Assets

IF you have ever watched a squirrel running in a cage, you know how Inflation works—the faster prices go up, the more money people have to earn to pay them and the higher go the costs that have to be figured into still higher prices. It's a vicious circle.

Fortunately, Canada hasn't been riding that Inflationary Squirrel Cage. The people of Canada have had the common sense to stop and say: "If everybody starts rushing to buy up the things in short supply, all we'll accomplish is to raise prices until nobody can afford to buy anything."

So, we've taken the moderate way—buying only what we really need, spending only what we really have to, knowing that if we wait, we're bound to get more for our money.

Now, all we have to do is to continue to hold fast to what is one of Canada's finest assets—the ability of the Canadian people to be moderate in all things, in their thinking, in their actions and in their habits.

Women's League Stand Is For Betterment

The National Women's League of the United Synagogue of America closed sessions of the first national convention to be held in five years with passage of twenty-seven resolutions varying from efforts to improve the status of women in general to the specific problem of the Jewish people.

Sisterhood members to work with other community groups for good radio programs, moving pictures and press, "not only by showing approval of the good, but by expressing disapproval of the mediocre, vulgar and poor quality programs and press."

Legislation against lynching was urged with the recommendation that the Attorney General discover and bring to trial members of lynch mobs in Monroe, Ga., and Minden, La., and all other areas where lynchings may occur.

The organization deplored discrimination against the Jewish people.

supported the Women's League of the United Synagogue of America in its efforts to provide a unified National Housing Agency, local planning, a liberal home loan plan, construction of homes for low, medium and high income and private slum clearance. Another resolution asked the the tax provision for the maintenance of these schools. It asked for laws to abolish tax exemption privileges of such institutions.

A plea was made to urge Congress to permit the utilization of unused immigration quotas for displaced persons regardless of national origin and for the liberalization of immigration laws.

The women also pledged themselves to work for passage of Federal, State and local fair employment acts; elimination of the system of depriving 10,000,000 citizens of the voting privilege by the poll tax; cooperation in United Nations work; support for continuation of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration; support for passage of Federal grants to provide equal educational opportunities in all States.

The league further pledged support of all steps toward the abolition of war through international control of all military weapons, including the atomic bomb. It endorsed the Atomic Energy Commission appointments of the President.

Magnes Charges Play Helps Terrorism

Dr. Judah L. Magnes, president of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, charged in an open letter to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt that the play, "A Flag Is Born", of which Mrs. Roosevelt is a sponsor, "makes an open appeal for funds for the purchase of arms for terrorist groups in Palestine."

The letter, written in Jerusalem on Nov. 21 and made available in New York by Dr. Magnes, in effect urges Mrs. Roosevelt to reconsider her sponsorship of the play, which was written by Ben Hecht and brought to Broadway by the American League for Free Palestine on Sept. 3.

Attacking the message of the play as an "appeal to terror," and leaflets enclosed in the program as "propaganda" and "deceptions," Dr. Magnes accuses those responsible for the play of wanting not a democratic Palestine but rather a "Jewish state, dominated by Jews," reports the New York Times. He adds that they are "trying to pull the wool over the eyes of Americans who sympathize so deeply with the tragic fate of the Jewish people and with the plight of hundreds of thousands of displaced Jews."

Dr. Magnes disputes statements made by the league that money subscribed by the audience is being used to purchase ships that will enable Jewish refugees to reach the Holy Land. "The fact is," he writes, "that the league has participated in the purchase and movement of ships in an almost negligible way. This can be verified to you should you so desire."

The letter follows:

Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

I wonder if you have yet realized the full implications of your act in becoming a sponsor of the play, "A Flag Is Born," and I wonder if there has been no one to tell you about it.

You will pardon me if I attempt to do this from far away, from Zion. This play makes an open appeal for funds for the purchase of arms for terrorist groups in Palestine. The climax of the play is the appearance of young Palestinians with rifles, who declare: "The new Jewish voice speaks from out of these guns."

It is a profound distortion of the truth to say that those responsible for this play want this. What they want is a Jewish State, dominated by Jews. A democratic State — such as they talk about — would at this time really mean Arab domination in Palestine, because the Arabs are in a great majority, and in a democratic State the majority rules. The Jews and the Arabs can be equal partners in a bi-national State. But the American League for a Free Palestine uses exactly the same formula which the Arabs are constantly putting forward. They are thus trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the Americans who sympathize so deeply with the tragic fate of the Jewish people and with the plight of hundreds of thousands of displaced Jews.

At the end of the play the manager stands up in a box with the spotlight upon him and declares that the money which the audience is asked to subscribe will be telegraphed abroad that very night in order to purchase ships to enable Jewish refugees to reach Palestine. On another propaganda leaflet enclosed in the program there is shown the picture of a vessel with over 800 repatriated "Hebrews," who were enabled to reach Palestine and disembark there with funds from America, presumably the League's funds.

The fact is that the League has participated in the purchase and movement of refugee ships in an almost negligible way. This can be verified to you should you so desire. Surely you would not wish to be part of colossal deception. I am making this letter to you public, because your name appears at the top of the public list of sponsors of this propaganda. It is high time that the atmosphere surrounding the Palestine problem be cleansed of these deceptions and these appeals to terror.

Solomon Grand, of Winnipeg, has been appointed Executive Director, Central Division, Canadian Jewish Congress, it was announced by Ben Sadowksi, president of the Division. Mr. Grand, who will make his headquarters in Toronto, was formerly the assistant to the director of the United Jewish Welfare Fund. He is a graduate of the University of Alberta and of the School of Social Work at the University of Manitoba. He holds the degree of Bachelor of Arts and a diploma in social work.

Are you in favor of supplying money and arms for the terrorists who are destroying life here and many of the achievements of the Jewish pioneers, and who are poisoning the minds and souls of our younger generation?

The hero of the play declares: "We know who the Arabs are. They are but a British lie wearing a turban."

Is this the way to secure friendship and understanding and co-operation between Jews and Arabs, by thus characterizing the Arabs? I feel sure you would not want to be among those sowing suspicion and hatred between the Jews and the Arabs, who must continue to live together in the Holy Land whatever be the political situation.

Among the propaganda material which the playgoer receives when he enters the theatre is a form letter from the "American League for a Free Palestine." As one of the purposes of this League is to:

It is a profound distortion of the truth to say that those responsible for this play want this. What they want is a Jewish State, dominated by Jews. A democratic State — such as they talk about — would at this time really mean Arab domination in Palestine, because the Arabs are in a great majority, and in a democratic State the majority rules. Get To Palestine From Riviera Points

The Italian Riviera, once famed as a gold coast of luxurious casinos and beach resorts on the Mediterranean, has found a post-war bonanza in the millions of lire paid by desperate Jews trying to reach Palestine.

Clandestine passage costs $50,000 lire a person — $2,200 at the officially pegged rate—and three trips about repay the cost of the vessel engaged. Almost all the refugees ships in this particular branch of the trade have double-bottomed holds so Jewish passengers can be concealed from chance boarding parties from British warships.

The traffic has been going on for months in big and little harbors of this coast. Secret sailings are well known to many and police officials admit they close their eyes to them.

Genoa is apparently the center for illegal sailings. Jews arriving there are housed in a three-story building in the Via de Gasperi. The fluctuating population, fed by United States Relief and Rehabilitation Association supplies, ranges from fifty to sixty persons at a time.

Officially, Jews arriving in Genoa await their turn on the Palestine immigration quota. But every few days some of them disappear. Officially, nobody in Genoa knows what becomes of them. Unofficially, even the police know they have found passage to the Holy Land.

A Genoa police official admitted that his men did nothing to prevent the embarkations. Officials explain that the Allies' authorities do not communicate to them the names of arriving and departing Jews or permit effective control of foreigners, and that Italy is being flooded with foreigners of all nationalities who cause officials great difficulty, and "every Jew who leaves Italy is one foreigner the less."

Most of the ships in the trade are Italian, but some foreign ships also take part. They leave Liguria harbors with a small cargo, bound for the Middle East. They proceed to established points on the coast to pick up Jews. These points are generally Albisola, Arenzano, Savona, Boreggi and Capo Noli.

Last June the 1,200-ton steamer "Maurice" sailed for Palestine high and many are willing to take any risk involved.

Ships with double-bottomed holds are especially designed to accommodate forty to fifty Jews each, usually. The passengers are kept below deck by day, but if no ship has been sighted they are permitted to go up in small groups at night for a few hours of fresh air. They usually live on biscuits and water for the voyage, which generally lasts seven to eight days.

N.Y. Mayor Adopts Jewish War Orphan

The first pictures of Gaston Maurice Friedmann, 8-year-old Jewish refugee war orphan adopted by Mayor O'Dwyer through Rescue Children, Inc., of New York, show Gaston at boarding school at the Comité Central Israélite at 50 Rue Gallait, Brussels, Belgium.

Photographs depicting Gaston in his dormitory with two schoolmates, writing sums on the blackboard, playing ball in the school yard and taking his music lesson were forwarded to the Mayor at City Hall by Herbert Tenzer, chairman of the executive committee of Rescue Children, Inc., from its headquarters at 1480 Broadway.

Mayor O'Dwyer became the organization's first foster father in its drive to raise funds for 3,000 refugee war orphans housed in Vaad Hatzala (Rescue Committee) homes abroad. Mr. Tenzer said. The Mayor adopted Gaston on Aug. 16, when a delegation from Rescue Children visited City Hall to explain its foster adoption plan costing $365 to provide food, clothing, and education for a child for one year. Thumbing through photographs of youngsters in a dozen Vaad Hatzala homes abroad, Mayor O'Dwyer selected the one of blue-eyed, smiling Gaston.

"We think the Mayor selected him because, although Gaston's parents were both born in Poland, he looks Irish," a member of the delegation said. "We named the Mayor, saying, 'He resembles you a little.' The Mayor laughed and observed, 'That's right, so he does.'"

Gaston was thrilled at having O'Dwyer's name, immediately wrote the Mayor a letter of condolence.

For Gaston knows what it means to lose one's dear ones, Mr. Tenzer said. Before the war, he lived with his parents, Berck Friedmann and Elka Nusbaum Friedmann, in Anderlecht, a suburb of Brussels. When the war came, his father was deported and never heard from again. Today his mother is an invalid, living near Brussels. Gaston was sheltered in a Vaad Hatzala home for nearly a year.

Although some Vaad Hatzala homes are in Belgium, Sweden, England and the American zone in Germany the majority are located in France, Mr. Tenzer explained.

CLASS IN COOKERY

CHINESE CHEWS

Mix together two unbeaten eggs and one egg-shell full of milk. Add one teaspoon vanilla. Then add one cup chopped walnuts; one cup raisins; one cup chopped dates; one cup white sugar; and then, three-quarters cup flour. Mix altogether, and pour in a greased eight-by-eight inch tin; and bake in a 355-degree oven, for thirty-five to forty-five minutes. When cool, cut in squares.

ALMOND APPLE TORTE

two pounds hard apples
two lemons
one pound sugar
one pound blanched almonds, dried and ground one pound icing sugar three heaping tablespoons flour six eggs
almond flavouring

Peel, core and cut apples into eighths. Put sugar in saucepan with enough water to moisten. When melted, add apples and lemons which have been peeled, halved, and sliced very thin. Cook until thick and transparent and no liquid is left. Stir often, as it burns quickly towards end of cooking.

Beat the whites and yolks of eggs separately. Sift the icing sugar. Combine all dry ingredients. Reserve one-half cup of the mixture. To the remainder, add well-beaten yolks, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, and flavouring. Put one-half of this mixture into well-greased pan, twelve inches by sixteen inches. Spread evenly. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, until light brown. Spread apple filling, cover with rest of dough, smoothing evenly with a spoon. Sprinkle one-half cup reserved mixture on top. Bake again, half-way up in the oven, until well-done. For dainties, do not cut until next day. For dessert, decorate with glazed cherries and angelica to make a flower on each square.

The marriage of Estelle Rutland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry Caplan, 306 Richview Avenue, to Arthur H. Zaldin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Zaldin, Coalmine Road, took place on Tuesday, December 3, at half-past seven o'clock, at Beth Jacob Synagogue, Rabbi Abraham Kelmman officiating. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a gown of petal-white satin, fashioned with a moulded basque, full gathered skirt, sweeping in a wide circular train. Over it was a fitted jacket of Alencon lace, fashioned with flared cap sleeves and flared peplum accentuating the waistline, and matching lace mittens. Her full-length veil of tulle illusion was fastened to a sculptured coronet of matching lace, as she carried a cascade of gardenias and bouvardia. Mrs. Myer Caplan, sister of the bride, who attended her as matron of honour, and Miss Corinne Turner, as maid of honour, were gowned alike, in lime-green faille, fashioned with drop shoulders, basque waistlines, full skirt and double lantern sleeves, with fuchsia-coloured halo hats, a lime-green gloves, and they carried cascades of roses. Helaine Fagan, as flower girl, wore a white taffeta frock, with fuchsia-coloured velvet hair band, and carried a nosegay of white and fuchsia-coloured flowers. John J. Zaldin, brother of the groom, attended him as best man, and the ushers were Samuel Zaldin, Earl Gould, Harold Fagan, Myer Axler, Melvin Coleman, and Stanley Alter. The synagogue was decorated with standards of white chrysanthemums, with plaques of white chrysanthemums surrounding the altar. During the ceremony, Monte Hall sang "Because." A reception followed at the bride's mother, Mrs. Caplan, receiving in a pale blue crepe draped dinner gown, with fuchsia-coloured trimming on the belt, a fuchsia-coloured flower hat, a matching gloves. The groom's mother, Mrs. Zaldin, wore a grey crepe dinner gown, with a fuchsia hat. For the wedding trip to Montreal, Que., and the Lacrosse, the bride wore a grey suit and hat, with green alligator accessories, and a gardenia corsage. They will reside in Toronto. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. L. Wolf and Mrs. T. Harrow, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rose, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rosenfield, of Buffalo, N.Y.; Mrs. E. Mann, of Detroit, Mich.

Chanukah And Christmas

It is beautifully symbolic and dramatic that Chanukah this year ends on Christmas eve. This simultaneous observance of the two festivals of lights by Jews and Christians ought to give emphasis to the precious Judaeo-Christian heritage and the need for safeguarding it in these critical post-war days. If ever Jew and Christian had to display unity in defense of common ideals it is certainly today, and happily in all free lands Jews and Christians are rapidly moving toward a closer and larger unity.

Chanukah and Christmas have a common origin in the history of religious observances. The kindling of lights on these sacred days may be traced to the mid-winter solstice. It indicated the return of the sun, the lengthening of the days. About the mid-winter month in the primitive age of the race, a day was set apart to honour of the sun that was coming back and the removal of the gloom which possessed the hearts of people during the absence of the sun. The 25th of Kisle and the 25th day of December, then, definitely belong to the family of solstice celebrations.

The synagogue, of course, connected the solstice celebration with the historic setting of the Maccabean struggle for religious freedom and liberty. With it, too, became associated the dramatic story of the little flask of sacred oil that escaped defilement at the hand of the heathens and lasted eight days, miraculously, though its amount normally was of one-day duration.

In these days Chanukah ought to remind the Jew that our sires never deserted the field of battle. Though our tradition from ancient days has ever been a pacific one, yet we never hesitated to die in defense of truth and justice. Anti-Semites like to describe cowardice to the Jew but history testifies to the contrary. In any land wherein the Jew was given freedom he more than discharged his patriotic duties. In the course of truth and justice the Jew battled heroically also in the realm of ideas and Judaism has survived even as the Jewish people who have lived by the faith.

Christian and Jew, each cherishing his religious identity, can

...and may Christmas and the Chanukkah help the respective adherents of the two great faiths to redeem the world from the present sorrow and darkness. May the light of Synagogue and Church illumine the world with faith in God, human compassion and brotherhood.

"A Jew At Heart"

How often have I heard co-religionists make excuses for not attending Divine Services at the synagogue, or for not identifying themselves with active Jewish communal life and always offering apologies with this refrain: "You know Rabbi, I am a Jew at heart even though I do not observe the ritual of the synagogue." Because of this I rejoice in re-publishing the verses written by my colleague, Rabbi Akron Opher. His sentiments are also mine.

"I am a Jew and proud to let men know it...

How do I show it?

I can tell you at the start —

I am a Jew at heart...

Why, no! I do not go to synagogue services.

Besides, my home is just as good a place to pray.

So why should I pray?

I don't believe in commercialized salvation

So I don't belong to any congregation.

O, no! We do not kindle Chanukah or Sabbath light.

Our children's pain don't enjoy the sight.

It is enough

We have a Christmas tree...

You see...

We like the presents and the carols and the mirth

And the "Peace on earth".

Such like no Jewish festivals provide.

But, believe me, we are Jews with pride.

Why, not? What for religious education?

The kids could learn to repeat the Kiddish recitation

Without the study of Hebrew or Jewish history

Or the superstitious of religious mystery.

Why teach them to feel different and set apart?

Let them just grow up on Jews at heart.

I don't belong to any Jewish club or organization

I haven't got the time or the inclination.

I don't subscribe to Jewish periodicals or books.

The less I read that stuff, the brighter the world looks.

I rarely make a contribution

To a philanthropic institution.

Charity begins at home, I feel.

I pay no heed to any lachrymose appeal

For Palestine or Europe's Jews or of the earth's for corners.

I am an American. Why bother about foreigners?

As I told you from the start.

I am a Jew at heart."

Something More Libelous, Seditious And Dangerous

Toronto Saturday Night says:

The Government of the province of Quebec has done nothing in the last thirty years so perfectly calculated to afford aid and comfort to the Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields in his campaigning as its present prosecution of some scores of residents of the province on charges of seditious libel because they have distributed copies of a pamphlet entitled "Quebec's Burning Hate for God and Christ and Freedom is the shame of all Canada". And as if it were determined to make it clear that prosecution and persecution were in this case synonymous, that same Government last week cancelled the license of a wealthy restaurant owner who has provided bail for a number of the accused, and accompanied the cancellation with a statement from the Premier that it was effected because of his association with the sect by which the pamphlet was produced.

The activities to which the pamphlet refers indicate no burning hate for anybody or anything except the Witnesses of Jehovah, the sect in question; but it is far from unusual for religious sects to identify their cause with that of the Almighty. Much of the pamphlet's language is too unstrained for polite controversy, but also much of it is a circumstantial account of events of mob violence in which no friend of Quebec can take much pride. The proper way to deal with the pamphlet would have been to answer its allegations of fact, if they can be answered, rather than to suppress it for its exaggerations of rhetoric. We do not know whether the courts will sustain the charge of seditious libel, a charge the meaning of which is apt to be slightly different in Quebec from what it is in other provinces; but it should be noted that no decision had been rendered on it at the time when the Roucurell license was cancelled by executive action.

The granting of bail is an act of the courts, for the furtherance of justice. The penalization, by executive authority, of a person for furnishing bail authorized by the courts looks extremely like executive interference with the course of justice. We hope Mr. Duplessis' colleagues can persuade him to see it in this light.

If the Quebec authorities are really looking for libelous documents to prosecute, we would draw their attention to the fact that the Union des Electeurs, the political party which has just elected Mr. Caouette to the House of Commons from Pontiac, and which is the French affiliate of the Social Credit party, has printed a new edition of the "Protocols of the Elders of Zion", an infamous and universally recognized forgery aimed at discrediting the entire Jewish race. Of the two documents we have no hesitation in declaring that this is far the more libelous, seditious and dangerous.

party member. They kept up the commotion for twenty minutes until the chairman restored order.

The scene began when Louis Stel of New York, representing the Jewish Committee, announced that will bring it for discussion and decision to the authoritative organ of the movement.

He said that Jews, who are the central of the movement, must

Dr. I. Granfeld, of London, England, who flew recently on a special mission to the Cyprus deportees camps on behalf of the Chief Rabbi's Emergency Council, sent the Council an interim report on conditions there.

Dr. Granfeld states that there are three detainee camps on the island. The camps consist of tents furnished only with camp beds, without sheets or bed linen. There is no floor covering. Each "family tent" is shared by three to five married couples, without any partitions between the beds. Boys and girls are segregated in other tents. In addition, there are communal tents used for dining rooms and other purposes. There are about 10 lavatories in one tent, but with no partition between them, and there are wash-rooms with one cold tap. Lighting consists of paraffin lamps.

On Erev Yom Kippur, says Dr. Granfeld, there was an unexpected downpour lasting well over an hour. Some tents were carried away, some partly collapsed, and others were flooded out.

Food is cooked in the communal kitchen, the report continues. The Orthodox, Aguda, and Mizrachi have their own kitchen. Cooking is done by paraffin, and as the heat is extreme and the work arduous, this task is carried out only by men. Breakfast consists of a plate of milk-rice, and dinner of soup, a piece of bread, and some meat. In the evening, the inmates get bread and tea. There is very little bread, and during the Holy-days extra food was provided from outside.

No one is allowed to keep money, therefore nothing can be bought. The inmates, with very few exceptions, are not allowed to leave camp. The exceptions are those who assist the shochet (ritual slaughterer). Relatives may visit patients in Nicotia hospital. The only persons allowed to enter the camp, which is behind barbed wire, are representatives of the Emergency Council, eight representatives of the Joint Distribution Committee, the shochet, a chaplain, and two women from the Famagusta Jewish Community. The population of the camp amounts to nearly 1,000.

suggestion that they should be tools and build better accommodation for themselves as they as that had conditions are almost guarantee that things cannot be time as they are. The inmates are all in good physical condition but complain that they are hungry. In order to get the inmates in their diet, which is almost essential," says Dr. Granfeld. "The Council to defray the costs of the additional food will be provided by the inmates, the other to be borne by the 'Joint.' Besides this, the inmates, who are very helpful, agreed to give their consent to an additional food parcel service."

Clothing is also a grave problem, he adds. Once the winter starts, with rains and cold winds, they will be sorry that they present they need wear very little clothing and no shoes. Warm clothes and stout footwear are gently required. Necessary food articles are tinned meat, sausage, biscuits, chocolate, and dried fruit. There is also a heavy demand for religious requisites, as well as all kinds of books. "The situation needs a lot of improvement, and my requests meet with great response," Dr. Granfeld concludes. "The difficulty is not here with the personnel, but in Cairo, with the Headquarters. The British officials here are really doing their best to carry out as humanely as possible a very difficult and tragic job."

TO DIVIDE

the spokesman said, but they are in a minority. The policy, he said, was decided on at the end of November.

This decision was first revealed by a highly placed Jewish source attending the world Zionist congress in Basle, Switzerland. This source estimated the number of Jewish refugees in the British zone as between 12,000 and 15,000.

It was pointed out that as part of the quota would be assigned to the estimated 100,000 Jews in the American zone.

to resist, except among the Greek Jews, but babies are being born every week. There are about 180 pregnant women in the camp.

The sole thought in the minds of the inmates is Palestine, says Dr. Granfeld, and they reject the world Zionist organization said scathingly. "I'm not impressed about speeches on resistance made in New York when resistance is supposed to take place in Palestine." He added a warning that terrorism in the Holy Land had done immense harm to and might eventually poison Jewish life.

Dr. Weismann's half-hour address was interrupted when Dr. Emanuel Neumann, vice president of the Zionist Organisation of America, shouted "Gomogoga." Dr. Weismann's moving reply brought the gathering to its feet, cheering. He said:

"Every house, every barn at Nahalal, every little factory in Tel Aviv and Haifa bears a drop of my blood."

Nahalal is a Jewish village in the Plain of Esdraelon of which Dr. Weismann is particularly fond.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York favored Jewish participation in the London conference. He made a deep impression when he declared that absorption would be an affront to the United States Government and a needless slap at Britain, according to the New York Times.

He resumed against despair and said: "I urge you to go to the London conference to lay the foundations of a Jewish state in Palestine."

The election of the Zionist Organization executive is to be held next Monday. Finding an acceptable coalition executive is becoming more pointed. The issue lies between Dr. Weismann's policy — "stay with England and accept what is offered" — and Dr. Silver's "Jewish state as Theodor Herzl envisaged it."

The American Zionist bloc decided by 30 to 2 with a threat of abstention, to recommend a four-man Zionist executive panel. This would have Dr. Weismann as honorary president and Mr. Ben-Gurion, Dr. Silver and a Mizrachi religious representative as members.

It was learned from reliable sources, however, that Dr. Weismann was not inclined to become a figurehead for anyone else's policy. It was said that if he accepted any office it must be in active leadership and only if a definite policy adopted by the congress associated with his vision on the future Jewish State.

Dr. Totah warned that they were ready to engulf that National Home. He said that Palestine was possible only if the Jews were abandoned.

"Arab opposition is becoming more crystallized instead of being," he said. "Opposition to Jewish state is more intense; the younger generation that the elders. It is folly for the Jews to mislead public opinion; deceive themselves with the hood that Arab masses favor the movement."

"Those who believe that only handful of 'effendis', that is, professional class, oppose Zionism, find out for themselves by visiting Palestine. The truth is the world in its entirety is a mass volcano ready to erupt at any time and engulf the National Home."

He added that there was a way for bringing peace to Palestine than the Zionist challenge the Arabs on their soil.

"The Zionists are clamoring for a free democratic Palestine," said. "So are the Arabs. Why inaugurate democracy at once?"

"Zionism means war and would be wiser for the Zionists to drive so hard as to endanger peace of the world. There will be no peace in the Middle East if Zionists persist in antagonizing Arabs and in seeking to deprive of their political rights."

James G. MacDonald, chairman of the Foreign Anglo-American Committee of inquiry on Palestine, presided.
